THE BATTLE OF THE TRENCHES.

The first assault was commenced by the enemy's artillery against the entire line of our left wing, which was promptly responded to by Capt. Green's Battery of Field Artillery. After several hours of firing between the artillery of the two armies, the enemy's infantry advanced to the conflict all along the line, which was kept up and increased in volume from one end of the line to the other for several hours, when at last the enemy made a vigorous assault against the right of our left wing—the position assaulted being a hight commanded by Col. Heimmu, and defended by his brigade, consisting of the 10th Tennessee, under command of Lieut.-Col. McGayeck, Col. Voorhies's (Tenn.), Col. Hughes's (Ala.), and Col. Head's (Tenn.) regiments of Tennessee Volunteers, and Capt. Maney's Field Battery.

This assault was vigorously made, and the position as vigorously defended, and resulted in the repulse of the enemy here and everywhere around the line.

The result of the day's work pretty well tested the

The more, mine counting of the final process of Trainers and Cut. Back (Test), reports of Trainers and Cut. Back (

Accordingly, dispositions were made to attack the fair placed forty-stem, finches in command of a large least of the fact, if a large at the colors and the fair of the fact, if a large at the construction of the fact, if a large at the construction of the fair of the fa

REWYORK DALLY THRIBUNE, SATURDAY, MARCH S, 1862

THE OFFICE OF PREI POLICY
THE PROPERTY OF STREET CONTROLORS
THE REPORT OF THRIBUNE AND ARREST THR

BROOKLYN ITEMS.